Adjourned.

New York, June 1.—The Mining Stock Exchange, located at 63 Broadway, was opened by the chairman of the Exchange, who made an address. George W. Smiley congratulated the members of the Exchange upon its successful organization. Speeches also followed from Governor Latham, Barnes, and others. The proceedings closed with the announcement that the Exchange was now ready for business. A sumptuous lunch by the Delmonico followed.

Little Rock, June 1.—Gov. Miller received a dispatch from Texarkana, yesterday, advising him that a mob attempted upon the jail to lynch a negro arrested for attempted rape. The friends of Crawford, the prisoner, fired on the mob. The fire was returned and eight persons are reported to have been wounded, some of them fatally. It is supposed that the prisoner had been previously removed to the jail at Washington, as the sheriff apprehended danger. The sheriff reports all quiet.

Collier, Va., June 1.—In the fight between Goss and Ryan near this place to-day eighty-seven rounds were fought, resulting in the defeat of Goss. The fight lasted one hour.

Ryan was the first to put in an appearance, reaching the ground about 5 o'clock. He was accompanied by his trainer, Jocky Roach and one or two others. He walked straight up to the ring and was greeted by cheers. He advanced and looked at the ring and addressed the crowd by saying, "that is the first time I ever saw a prize ring. I hope Goss will show up and we'll have a fair fight."

Later Goss appeared. His seconds were Jack O'Connors and Jack Hines. They sparred nervously at first and in the first round Goss slipped to avoid punishment. Ryan got the first blood in the third round by a smashing blow on the mouth of Goss. The fight continued with varying success until the last round when Ryan was declared victor. Goss' favorite tactics were to fall to avoid blows.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 1.—Goss' friends made several claims of foul, which were not allowed. On the eighty-sixth round Goss' seconds would not allow him to come to time. The battle was one hour and twenty-seven minutes.

DOINGS AT CHICAGO.

Great Excitement on the Eve of the Opening of the Convention—The Streets are Crowded With an Excited Throng.

The Grant Men Waiver and are Doubtful, But the Solid South is Supposed to be for Grant.

And Unless the Unit Rule is Broken, Grant Will Most Undoubtedly be Nominated.

Special to the Gazette:

Chicago, Ill., June 1.—Immense crowds throng the streets to-day. Great excitement prevails owing to serious bolts in several Grant delegations, but the South is solid for Grant. Blaine men are sanguine of success. A desperate struggle as to the unit rule was opened in the National Convention. A resolution was offered declaring the rule abrogated but Don Cameron promptly declared the resolution out of order. Senator Hoar was elected by the anti-Grant element as temporary chairman. Most all of to-day will be spent in organizing.

G. K.
Chicago, June 1.—It is by no means certain that Blaine will be nominated. Indications are, however, that he is gaining much strength. His dangers if any, lies in the obstinate adherence of the friends of Sherman, Edmunds and Washburne to their respective favorites. This might be fatal to him if the ultra Grant men can succeed in so dwindling and distributing their forces among other candidates so as to prevent a majority for Blaine until the Convention is exhausted by numerous ballots. This game is fully anticipated by Blaine's friends who are discreetly but not defiantly firm in tone and conciliatory in manner. They profess to be confident. The popular sentiment for their favorites is admitted by many delegates who came here pledged to support other candidates many of whom say they are opposed to killing the strongest man for the sake of some weaker one. It is known that at least two additional New York delegates will join the nineteen protestants against Grant and another, making twenty-three in all, is expected to join them in the critical moment.

Chicago, June 1.—It having been announced that the mass meeting would cast twenty votes on the 1st ballot for Sherman, that being the Edmunds strength; Judge Hoar was asked as to the correctness of the statement, and he said, that they would give their first vote to Edmunds, as instructed, and after that to Sherman. The Blaine vote in the Ohio delegation numbers nine, and Mack, of Sandusky, says that they will vote on the first ballot for Blaine.

The New York delegation had a long and stormy session to-day over the unit question. Conkling insisted that the state would vote as a unit, and refused to believe in the authenticity of the signatures to the manifest, mentioned in last night's dispatches, until personally assured by those that had actually signed it. He made a personal appeal to the so called kickers, with exception of whom he warmly accused of perjury, and who responded warmly in their own defense. Finally, after four hours session, a vote was taken on the question of sustaining the unit rule and the vote stood 45 for, and 23 against. Not voting two.

There is little change in the situation to-night except that Blaine's promised vote on the first ballot is believed to be already largely increased and many accessories to Washburne are promised conditionally if Blaine's nomination should fail. Grant's vote has been so much diminished that it is believed that he would be withdrawn except for the conviction that his managers could not hold the vote together in such an event. Edmunds vote is also increasing but is hardly sufficient yet to justify much hope of success. While all do not share the extreme confidence of the Blaine men his forces remain compact and their bold, earnest and enthusiastic spirit and perfect organization give them great promise of victory unless some new event enters the convention.

Don Cameron's retreat from yesterday's position in the National Convention was taken under the advice of Senator Jones and others.

The Committee agreed unanimously to accept Hoar for temporary chairman of the Convention, to allow subsequent controverted questions to be settled in the house. This destroys the unit rule and takes from Grant about 60 votes in New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio alone.

The scene of excitement is indescribable. The city is crowded with visitors and movement about the great hotels is very difficult for the throngs.

The Nott Committee re-convened at 2:30 p. m. and adjourned after a two hours' session. A member of the committee says that the conclusion was reached that Cameron should remain in the chair; that the regular delegates from Louisiana, Kansas, Illinois and Utah shall be admitted to the temporary organization, that contests in these States should be submitted to the committee on credentials, that the unit rule should be enforced or not at the pleasure of the Convention, that Conkling, Logan and Cameron have pledged themselves to interfere in no way in regard to the action of the Committee respecting the unit rule. The Committee decided to distribute the tickets at 9:30, to-morrow morning. The common expression on the street is that the second, third, or fourth choice is much more probable than the first choice. There was a rumor on the streets to-day that Sherman had withdrawn; but when traced up it proved to have no more foundation than a telegram which he is said to have sent to a friend, saying that the unit rule ought to be beaten and advising that it be done even if it sacrificed him. The anti-Grant men say that the rule will not be beaten even if the vote is taken by the states, for many of the states have decided to-day to vote against the rule despite the fact that the majority of their members are in favor of Grant.

If the rule is abolished, and its undoubtedly opponents to Grant's claim, the individual vote would make the majority against it of over 20 to 100. The Pennsylvania delegation took a vote for the purpose of electing a chairman. Cessa was elected by a vote of 35 to 21 over Beaven, add Chicago.

The movements of the Grant leaders at the Palmer House this morning gave rise to much query, and when Cameron, Conkling, Logan and a large party assembled in a room at 10 o'clock this evening, the curiosity was redoubled, and the activity of the correspondents was largely increased. From the facts which have leaked out it is known that the Grant managers are much less confident on the 1st ballot, in fact, they are pretty well convinced that they cannot secure it at all should they fail to secure an increased vote on the 2nd.

Chicago, June 1.—Gen. Stewart L. Woodman, chairman of the convention, and several others, made rousing speeches. General Sheridan was loudly called for, but he only bowed, and made no speech.

Resolutions were adopted in favor of the Republican party demanding equal rights, and the protection of Republicans in the South, choosing Grant as their choice candidate for the Presidency. The latter resolution was strongly opposed.

Boutwell, of Maine, and Congressman Boroughs, and others opposed it as unjust, and as tending to divide the Republican party, but the chairman decided that it be ordered, amid cries of no! no!

GONE TO REST.

Pueblo, Col., June 1.—Matt Riddlebarger, one of the pioneers of Colorado, died at the Greenhorn, Monday night. He was a member of the first Territorial legislature and well known in the state.

Bangor, Maine, June 1.—The Democratic convention met to-day. The chairman made a speech, declaring that if Grant was re-elected he might be four or five rounds.

Montreal, May 31.—During the fire last night in Springfield two servant girls jumped from a four story window and were fatally injured. Three persons were prostrated by smoke.
